July-August 2025

2025-2026 AERONAUTICAL CHARTS ARE HERE!

The updated chart provides airport information, communication frequencies, a guide to airfield signs and airspace classification. Other features include a listing of all aviation weather reporting stations in the state with frequencies and phone numbers.

To request copies, please send an email to aviation@modot.mo.gov and include the number of 2025-2026 charts you are requesting, a contact person and mailing address.

Old charts - We have leftover 2022-2023 charts available if any school or organization would like them. If interested, please contact the above-listed email to request the charts. Leftovers will be recycled.

PLANNING SPECIALIST/PROJECT MANAGER - CENTRAL

We are excited to announce that, as of Aug. 8, Kimberly Masters is the new planning specialist/aviation project manager for Missouri's central area airports. She will be working alongside Brian Boehmer in statewide aviation planning.

Kim has a love of flying and has held many different positions as a pilot, including certified flight instructor and airline transport pilot. She joins us from the Department of Natural Resources. Kim is excited to get back into the aviation world and looks forward to meeting new sponsors!
